Enjoy an opportunity to re-discover a fuller sensory awareness of your environment that may otherwise be inhibiting your natural ability to discover and absorb information around us.

This may mean, for some of us, connecting to a world without a lens between our reality and us. For others, it may mean being more relaxed, bright, open eyed with a more pleasant relaxed visual connection with our world.

Our vision is often stressed; we then tend to overly rely on our sight, to the detriment of our other sensory input. This, over time may diminish our vision and other sensory systems affecting our relationship to our world.

For all of us, Visioncircles provides a setting in which to explore the limitless possibilities that often occur through greater mindfulness of our vision and sensory experiences.

Balance your Visual, Auditory, Tactile and Kinaesthetic skills, integrating your visio-sensory experiences and abilities, naturally.
